Director's Update

Nya:wëh Sgë:nö' I am thankful you are well.

In May we honor and celebrate our mothers and grandmothers, our life-givers and life-carriers. We also take time this month to remember and raise awareness for all Missing and Murdered Indigenous Women. More information on Mothers Day events at AOA and MMIW events can be found inside.

The return of spring brings brighter days and new opportunities to see our Elders and community. Last month we held a ham distribution for Elders and a drive through dinner at the Community Fair. We sent home Easter gifts to Home Delivered Meal Recipients and enjoyed seeing many new faces at our Elder Centers for activities and meals.

If you need assistance or would like to participate in any of our activities and events, give us a call.

Ësgögë' ae' - I'll see you again. Bethany Lay

Self-Care for Caregivers

Self-Care is the conscious practice of looking after one's own wellbeing on a personal, professional, and organizational level. There is no one-size-fits-all strategy. Self-care is intentional, practical, restorative and very important to the well-being of a caregiver.

Why is Self-Care Important?

- Strengthens connections & relationships
- Helps maintain balance
- Prevents burnout and promotes energy
- Enhances self-confidence and selfawareness
- Taking care of yourself is also taking care of your loved ones!

Practical Tips:

- -Set boundaries § Recognize that you are a caregiver
- -Get to know yourself! Find what works for you.
- -Make a plan with those you trust
- -Be consistent!
- -Commit to saying NO.
